24 Years Ago, US-NATO Invaded Afghanistan: Heroin Is “Good for Your Health.” Occupation Forces Support Afghan Narcotics Trade

By Prof Michel Chossudovsky, November 14, 2025

The occupation forces in Afghanistan are supporting the drug trade, which brings between 120 and 194 billion dollars of revenues to organized crime, intelligence agencies and Western financial institutions.

Iran’s Strategic Chabahar Port in the Gulf of Oman. Trump’s Sanctions Regime

By Andrew Korybko, November 14, 2025

India’s Ministry of External Affairs recently confirmed that the US will waive sanctions for six months on those who operate Iran’s Chabahar Port, which their country plans to invest $370 million into as part of last year’s 10-year deal, after rescinding its long-running waiver on this activity in late September.

Billionaires Should Not Exist

By Chaitanya Davé, November 14, 2025

Almost 60 percent of billionaire wealth is derived from one of these sources: inheritance, corruption, cronyism, or monopoly power. Trillions are being gifted in inheritance in particular, creating a new aristocratic oligarchy that exerts immense power in our economy, politics and our society.

“Remembrance” or “Lest We Forget”: Rethinking the War to End All Wars

By Michael Welch, Yves Engler, and Dr. Jacques R. Pauwels, November 14, 2025

Today, Remembrance Day may as well be called “Thank a Soldier for your Freedoms Day.” Without disrespecting those who have died serving in past conflicts, it is worth reflecting during Remembrance Week on exactly why World War I and other twentieth century conflicts were waged in the first place.

MAGA Donald Trump “Comes to the Rescue of Christians” in Nigeria? Fueling Political and Social Divisions in the Number One Oil Economy in Africa

By Ahmed Adel, November 13, 2025

After classifying Nigeria as a “disgraced country,” US President Donald Trump said on November 1 that American troops will attack the African country if the killing of Christians by Islamic terrorists does not end.

“Happy Terrorists” Join Hands. Al Qaeda “Bad Guys” Are Our Friends

By Prof Michel Chossudovsky, November 12, 2025

This is no laughing matter. Here they are together, MAGA Donald Trump and former Al Qaeda leader Mohammad al-Jolani, smiling with a U.S. flag in the background.

Video: Meta Is Reading Your Private Messages to Feed Its AI

By Jimmy Dore, November 14, 2025

Starting December 16, Meta will begin accessing and analyzing users’ private messages, photos, and voice notes across Facebook, Instagram, and WhatsApp, all to feed the company’s AI development and, of course, profit margins.
